But that's not all: there are many other famous openings, from which people have set out to become writers. Here is a list of famous first lines from literature: "One of the great adventures of my life was that I fell in love with Elizabeth Bennet." ? William Shakespeare "There are no more worlds." ? J. D. Salinger "Every man's life is a fairy tale written by God's finger – it just depends on the interpretation." ? Arthur Conan Doyle "It was a bright cold day in April, and the clocks were striking thirteen." ? George R.R. Martin "Pale ghosts float in the ruined house at Dunroamin, and a dead woman in a blue dress is flung on the bed with an iron poker in her back." ? William Faulkner "It is a truth universally acknowledged, that a single man in possession of a good fortune, must be in want of a wife." ? Jane Austen "O the deep! O the deep! O the deep, deep silence! No sound of breathing in the water, no sense a1d647c40b
