What's New in the?

All the information are directly displayed from the Embroidery file without any additional software. There is a small dialog box to convert your art file to DXF format. When finished converting, you can exit the application, keep it open, and continue your stitching from where you left off. The application is fully compatible with most of the standard embroidery software. The file saving dialogs and the applications menu have been rearranged to make it easier to navigate your designs and projects. When you open an embroidery file, you will find several new buttons in the ribbon: **[ ]**_DoubleClick_ - This button lets you undo the last command **[ ]**_Rotation_ - This button lets you rotate the last command **[ ]**_Scale_ - This button lets you scale the last command **[ ]**_Translation_ - This button lets you translate the last command **[ ]**_Fit_ - This button lets you fit the last command **[ ]**_Position_ - This button lets you position the last command **[ ]**_Refresh_ - This button lets you to refresh the last command **[ ]**_Exit_ - This button let you to exit the application The default shortcuts for most of these buttons are Ctrl + 1 for undoing the last command, Ctrl + 2 for rotating the last command, Ctrl + 3 for scaling the last command, Ctrl + 4 for translating the last command, Ctrl + 5 for fitting the last command, Ctrl + 6 for positioning the last command and Ctrl + 7 to exit the application. The buttons have been moved to the top-left corner of the ribbon so they will be more accessible in all the dialog boxes. These buttons will help you to navigate your designs and projects easily. **Layout mode** - For a easy way to see your designs while you are stitching, you can create a layout from your designs. In order to do this, you will need a blank layout where you can paste your designs. In Embroidermodder you will have a button named **Edit Layout** (see Figure 1)**. * Figure 1 - Edit Layout You can then paste your designs and create your layout. You can then export the layout to an external program such as PowerPoint or other apps like Visio or Paperg, and stitch your designs to the layout. To export the layout to a program, you can do one of the following
